euca-add-group

Contents

euca-add-group

Creates a new security group.

Syntax

```
euca-add-group  -d, --description <group_description> [-a, --access-key <access_key> ][-s, --secret-key <secret_key> ][--config
      <config_path> ][--debug][--debugger][-h, --help][--region
      <region_name> ][-U, --url <url> ][--version][--euca-auth] group_name
```

Options

Parameter	Description	Required?
-d,--description	Description for the group to be created	Yes
group_name	Unique name for the group to be created	Yes

Common Options

Parameter	Description
-a,--access-key	User's access key ID
-s,--secret-key	User's secret key
--debug	Prints what the command sends to the server and what it receives from the server. Use when you're trying to debug Euca2ools.
--debugger	Enable interactive debugger on error
-U,--url	URL of the cloud to connect to. Expects an EC2 endpoint /services/Eucalyptus.
--region	Region to direct requests to. Only valid for EC2 endpoints.
-h,--help	Display the manual page for the command.
--version	Display the version of this tool

Output

• Output type identifier ("GROUP")

•

Example Request

```
euca-add-group mygroup -d 'A new group'
```

Example Response

```
GROUP   mygroup A new group
```